

The Best Weekends To Marry, According to the Stars

My Perfect Wedding: Which is the best Date?

"With an astrologer, you are choosing a date to portray the goddess herself: On that date you become a natural center, and from that center glows a certainty of Love. It shows in the pictures and your guests will talk about it for years. If ever there was a day for smiles and gratitude, it would be your wedding day. Harmony abounds and when your day is beyond perfect--moreover, if your own attitude mimics Venus' smiling image, you achieve the blessing of the blissful bride."

The Best Weekends To Marry, According to the Stars

May to December,
2008:

Choose the spiritually-correct date for your wedding.

If ever there was a day for smiles and gratitude, it would be your wedding day. What if your choice of date could make all your preparations go more smoothly? Enjoy your guests and complete your plans without a hitch, with the help of astrologers Claire-France Perez and Antoine Garth.

With an astrologer, you are choosing a date to portray the goddess herself: On that date you become a natural center, and from that center glows a certainty of Love. It shows in the pictures and your guests will talk about it for years. Harmony abounds and your day is beyond perfect--if your own attitude is also directed to Venus' smiling image.

Use This Guide:

In the first column begins the date during which Venus will be traveling through each sign. She goes fast or slow, and so can spend between three and six weeks in any sign.

Venus has her own mind, and does things her way, and according to her own tastes. As a bride, you want to blend your style and preferences to hers. "The Venus Style of the Moment" is described in the middle column. Here you may choose the style appropriate for you.

In the last column, I review the starry conditions of those weekends which stand out, astrologically, and according to the travels of Venus where in some signs she takes on different tastes, each for the mood of the time. These are useful for trends in general.

About the Astrologers:

Claire-France Perez and Antoine Garth are professional astrologers located in San Francisco, California, and offer a combined experience of over 50 years.

The astrologers take yours and your groom's time of birth, place and date to make the wedding chart. Then, you also supply a span of time for your date selection; up to five months, from which we may choose the best dates. We can select the occasions of greatest harmony.

Your lasting memories are not the only benefit of a correctly chosen date: Some dates also have a little magic "cement" for the long duration of relationship. On the right date, your married life has a spiritually-enhanced moment to begin a life-long journey.

The Venus Style of the Moment

Currents that flow during this year's travel of Venus specifically for weekends.

1-May Taurus

The zodiacal year for Venus begins with Taurus: She is increasing in her power and stature as she proceeds into the first fixed sign of spring. The months of April and May have long been associated with "Spring Fever," which correctly identifies Venus' renewed power over our moods and tastes. We literally "spring" to life with the new flowers and lushness of soft rains. How long we have wintered in our dispirited wait for greenery and floral refreshment? Venus answers from her home in Taurus with her love of lush texturing, patterns upon patterns in a visually-rich display. Velvet or suede, real crystal, or genuine porcelain all speak to this rich, self-indulgent Venus.

Venus will trine Saturn on the first of May, so weddings taking place May 2 or 3 get the benefit of a marker for relationships of long-duration. The first three weekends in May favor all watery- and earth-signed people who make their nuptials this year. Uranus and Jupiter are in such good stead with each other that this could support surprisingly difficult connections between your invited guests and the ways they will travel to share your special day. Many beneficial aspects give this period a smooth-sail character.

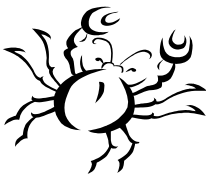

25-May Gemini

The qualities of light chatter, charm, socially connecting events mark the Venus in Gemini period. Here begins a new reason for staying in contact, and sending cards because Venus loves sentiment, spontaneity and the warmth of a good conversation. Weddings planned for the weeks of Venus' transit in Gemini are events which attract your most locquacious friends to the microphone at the reception. Some may need a five-minute timer! Your wedding guests will favor gifts of communication, or accessories for their mobile phones, anything that enables connection, whether electronically or in the snail mail.

On the 25th of May, Venus changes sign, entering Gemini, and thus squaring Saturn for a few days. This puts restrictions and demands on Venus: She is blocked in some fashion. Oftentimes, guests who had planned to come must cancel their plans to attend, or certain things which were hoped for, become too expensive, or otherwise out-of-reach. The weekend of May 24-25 suffers from a cooled effect on the ardor of Venus, since Saturn is the original "cold shoulder."

19-Jun Cancer

While Venus is in Cancer she is in a Watery Sign, and loves being there! This is the home of good food, but when it's for Venus, we turn to fine dining, excellent wines and a stash of incredible breakfasts. The comforts of being in relationship center around the menu, for union with loved ones and the pleasure of a repast shared by friends and family. The greatest satisfactions come from the first moments of silence at the table, which inspires many to roll their eyes in heavenly delight. This wedding period requires sensuous food and comfortable surroundings for enjoying a meal, and even a banquet. This is a style issue because the guests and the style of catering must meet each other's need for satisfaction.

While Venus is traveling through Watery elements she bonds well with the cold, formalizing side of Saturn, and removes his disciplinarian attitude, promoting less restrictive conversations, adding a good omen of long duration to her influence. Best weekend of June for a wedding: June 21-22; however some of the fixed sign people (Taurus, Leo, Scorpio, Aquaman, birthdays on the 17th to 22nd of those months) may be confronted with rush deadlines and limited cash resources.

2008 Sign

The Venus Style of the Moment

Currents that flow during this year's travel of Venus specifically for weekends.

13-Jul Leo

A passage through the sign Leo always promises brilliance, pageantry, shining and noticable from a distance: All qualities given to the Sun, which is Leo's ruler. Venus wears gold, shines bright and glowing, taking her place in the center of all, hoping for greater satisfactions from ambience, and allowing all else to take a lesser status. The feeling of importance and grandeur are her style. How to show, or display, or shine a light upon your event is Venus' special task while she is visiting in the Solar Manse. Golden, sunset, and splendor are her favorite words.

When Venus enters Leo this year she is not as supported as in years previous where she had been the central star of her own special dates. All the other planets have left the air and fire signs which would be her standard-bearers, and so fire sign Venus stands alone with her brilliance. She has one glamorous, but "iffy" aspect in the month of July during the weekend of th 24-25th, when she is opposed by Neptune. She may be viewed either as a goddess, or forgotten altogether. Not a brilliant weekend for Venus.

7-Aug Virgo

The sign of the Virgin is really a mother and daughter story, one which recounts the feelings of separation awaiting them both as daughter acheives her wedding day. While Venus is in Virgo it is wise to partner with a maternal type to make your wedding stand out. Is your wedding coordinator watching out for you like mom did in the fourth grade? Is your caterer exacting and likely to pass muster with your own mother? The season of Venus' passage through this sign gives over to harvests, and her special emblem is the grain. This a motif of Virgo, the emblem of "micro" where we must focus our eyes on the little things that make life special, and order the smaller version in greater plenitude when given the chance. Use Venus in Virgo to give breads, recipes, tiny replicas, and modestly designed jewelry for the Mother of the Bride. Oh, and throw some rice!

Mars is now trining Jupiter which can kick off with hilarity and expensive giving leading to a care-free nonchalance for celebrating. Venus' best weekend is reserved for a Jupiter trine which is a promise of grandly portrayed affection the warmth of friends and family and a much more opulent feeling for the event than any other time. August 15 and 16 are excellent dates for a Venus in Virgo wedding. Shaffs of wheat are Virgo's motif.

31-Aug Libra

Libra is also home to Venus, the sign of an equinoctal moment of the year. That day and night are equal gives rise to the idea of "balance" and serenity, a requirement of harmoniousness. The femininity of this sign typifies elegance and floral display of pale colors with design curves, ribbons, or loops to fancy the imagination. Some might even add a cherub to the mix, if only to smile on his antics. While Venus is in Libra, the wedding event is formal in feeling, if not in execution: politeness and grace mark the conversations and decor is a blend of good proportion and great design.

The airy position of Libra is Venus' own home, where her style of decor and taste for pastel and soft colorations abound. As with the fire sign positions of Venus, this year the other planets do not support this cool, calm and collected picture of Venus with much fanfare. The best she can do is to find a date with support from the Moon. Such a date is the 20th of September, where a trine from Moon in Gemini performs better on Sunday 21st. Balance in pastel or jewel color, decor, and proportion are Libra satisfactions.

25-Sep Scorpio Scorpio's needs for privacy are legendary. The small event with no overhead helicopters peeking in is where the bride feels most intimate and deeply connected. This location for Venus' transit marks inwardly esthetic moments, where displays of affection are reserved for private places, and a need for quiet ceremony is in motion. Scorpio's preference is for hidden getaways, secret hidaways and no one around but "us two." Travel to lonely or sacred places for long walks and incredible sunsets, or find a meditation teacher to co-create your first year of wedded bliss. Inner practice and outer discipline are trademarks of Venus' transit through this sign of jewel-dark colors, rich textures and crisp manners.

Venus in watery Scorpio has a beautiful weekend for celebrations on October 4-5, when she is in aspect to Jupiter, here providing lush generosity and discreet giving that elevates her appeal. A Uranus sextile promises the "getaway" after the wedding will be the most fun of all, so laugh it up, expect everyone will attend, get some good pictures and then get on a crazy conveyance to swoosh out of town.

The Best Weekends To Marry, According to the Stars

200
8 Sign

The Venus Style of the Moment

Currents that flow during this year's travel of Venus specifically for weekends.

19- Sagittarius
Oct

The Party Begins while Venus rambles through Sagittarius, flying high on her ideals, and allowing a true bachanalian esthetic to wow her wedding guests. She is in the mood for outdoorsy activity, even if it is winter, she would love a ski lodge or a beach resort, no matter, just as long as there are views of incredible horizons, this is a happy-go-lucky style of enjoyment. The sporting crowd is in a mood for a gamble, and raucous games give way to hilarity. A photo-booth at the party gives everyone laughter for years to come, with memories of their warmth and good-naturedness on record. While Venus is in Sagittarius, travel plans satisfy: The notion of crossing borders and enjoying a trip is high on Venus' mind.

Venus in Sagittarius must first deal with the square from Saturn before getting on with the business of matrimony. Are all the requirements satisfied? Did some senior member of the family decide to "opt out?" of attending? Some disappointments are to be expected during Halloween weeked, on the 31 and November 1. But Venus is trined by Mars which should suggest a polished, and perfected appearance in all the photos.

Some misbehavin' goin' on too!

13- Capricorn
Nov

The unlikely possibility that Capricorn has deeply sensuous needs should not surprise anyone: The contrast between what Venus wants and how the Sun portrays Capricorn reveals a tale of a different color than all that "work, work, work" ethic of the Sun's management skill. Venus brings out the feeling connection in this somewhat reserved moment and drives a new agenda toward a homestead, a place of permanence or some acheivement of long duration. Venus in Capricorn wants to stand among monuments, reminders of historic grandeur and importance. Consider high quality in every effort as your Venus in Capricorn tastes venture to what is tried and true: Tiffany's, Gump's, Neiman Marcus and other high fashion retail establishments are products of a Venus in Capricorn affinity for taste, style and expensive goods.

Venus will conjoin Jupiter on the 29th of November 2008, promising the most any bride could ever expect from the stars for her special day. While this pair are cavorting in randy Capricorn, the champagne will flow, the bride gown will swoosh by and seduce everyone at her first dance with her groom. This will be an event to remember and the photography will prove it.

8- Aquarius
Dec

Aquarius' style of working around the barriers of what others might consider to be "the norm" is a game while Venus is in Aquarius. Just how off-beat can she be? Quirky and non-conformist, Venus' style while she visits with the Water Bearer borders on intellectual, reasoned and possibly dry, requiring wit, music and humor to skate the edges of seriousness. A dry wit, a love of conversation, and a need for formal surroundings enable your guests to relax. Venus in Aquarius is not afraid of trimming the budget in one place if only to have all the expense focussed on great food and relaxation.

Mars will square Saturn during the weekend of 13 and 14 December, 2008, giving a tone of frustration or concerns that potentially distract you, your groom or some of your guests. On those dates, Venus conjoins Neptune, which is a lofty place that can "zero out" her usual conviviality when she becomes more demanding of unacheivable perfection. Consider it a stressful weekend more appropriate for sales meetings than for weddings. If you must be married during this month, it may not affect your chart so personally: find out if that is the case from (Claire-France Perez & Antoine Garth) the astrologers at the AncientSky.com.
